7.1.2 3- Water conservation facilities available in the Institution:

- --- As per Architect's advice, rain water harvesting may be possible only when our land behind the college building will be acquired.
- --- The college has insufficient space for construction of Open wells.
- --- water conservation check damps are generally constructed during our NSS camp but in last five years no such damps were constructed in the village Donegaon, Vangani, Taluka Badlapur, Dist. Thane.
- --- As our college is located in the MIDC zone, MIDC Phase 1 and 2 of Dombivli region have a separate water treatment plant known as "Dombivli Better Environment System Association" (Non-government company located near Tata Power road towards Savitribai Phule Natymandir, Dombivli [E] - Registration Number 110212] and the waste water from industries and nearby residential areas is collected and recycled in that water treatment plant.

We have conducted comparative study of the water bills received by the institution to understand the water usage which indicates that during the lock down due to less use of water, whereas the lock down has been lifted by government since then the unit of water usage and the bill paid thereafter has shown vast changes this is reflected in the table given below.

Comparative study of water consumption in college during and after the lock down
